

DEC 21, 2015 @ 08:31 AM

Gifts For Women: Multifunction Fashion For Work, Travel And Serious Fun

Vanessa McGrady, CONTRIBUTOR

I cover the art of family finance and becoming a more savvy consumer.

FOLLOW ON FORBES \(69\)

Opinions expressed by Forbes Contributors are their own.

FULL BIO

TWEET THIS

If there's a woman on your holiday list who travels often, wants to simplify, or is just tired of too many $20 mistakes in her closet, read on.

This company could become one of the most disruptive forces in shoe history.

So many of us were swept up in the decluttering craze over the past year, and lots of us try to make holiday shopping as simple as possible. If there's a woman on your holiday list who travels often, wants to simplify, or is just tired of too many $20 mistakes in her closet, read on. One note: Some quality convertible clothing costs more than you might pay for the regular item, but it balances out by eliminating the need for buying other items.

ShoeCandy by Kara Mac offers iconic footwear—boots, flats, and sandals—in high (2 1/4") and low (3/4") heel heights. You can swap out the heel art and front clips to create entirely new looks for each piece. The shoes are crafted in Brazil from quality leather, with some delicious memory foam insoles. This company could become one of the most disruptive forces in shoe history. Accessories start at $12; shoes and boots range from $89 to $159.

The Perfect Pump from ShoeCandy by Kara Mac can go from serious to swingy just by swapping out heel and toe adornments.