LIVING IN STYLE

THE STUNNING SANDAL

MAY 7, 2015

When I go on a trip, I like to pack as light as possible and plan my outfits around one, maybe two, pairs of shoes. With that thought in mind, Ann Peyton Merlin, a friend of mine from High School, has partnered with Kara Mac to create Shoe Candy Customizable Sandals. They are an innovative way to create 100's of styles of sandals with mix and match strap and heel accessories. A really cool concept, currently on Kickstarter, that starts with either a silver leather or black patent leather t-strap sandal and then pick from an assortment (see a selection below) of decorative t-straps, ranging from colorful rhinestones to leather flowers, and coordinating heel covers to pop on to the sandals. With this interchangeable program you can travel with one pair of sandals and change them up with the accessories to match what you will be wearing. Packing light at its best...Genius! Check out the video and then it will make total sense!
